

America's Memorial Day celebrated in Paris at the Arc de Triomphe, where the unknown soldier of France is buried. Ambassador Wallace and many noted persons of international prominence were present.

One of the first 1921 season pictures taken at Southampton, L. I., the exclusive summer social colony. It shows the Princess Braganza (formerly Miss Anita Stewart of New York) and her two children. Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

Edmond Pendleton Rogers, Jr., and Beatrice Hudson playing on the beach at Southampton, L. I., the fashionable summer resort now entertaining many prominent persons. One of the first 1921 pictures. Underwood & Underwood.

Remarkable picture of Admiral Sims and the Prince of Wales in the collegiate procession at Cambridge on their way to receive honorary degrees from the great English university. Their merriment is caused by the effigy of a proctor hanging amid the street decorations. Copyright, Tom Aitken.

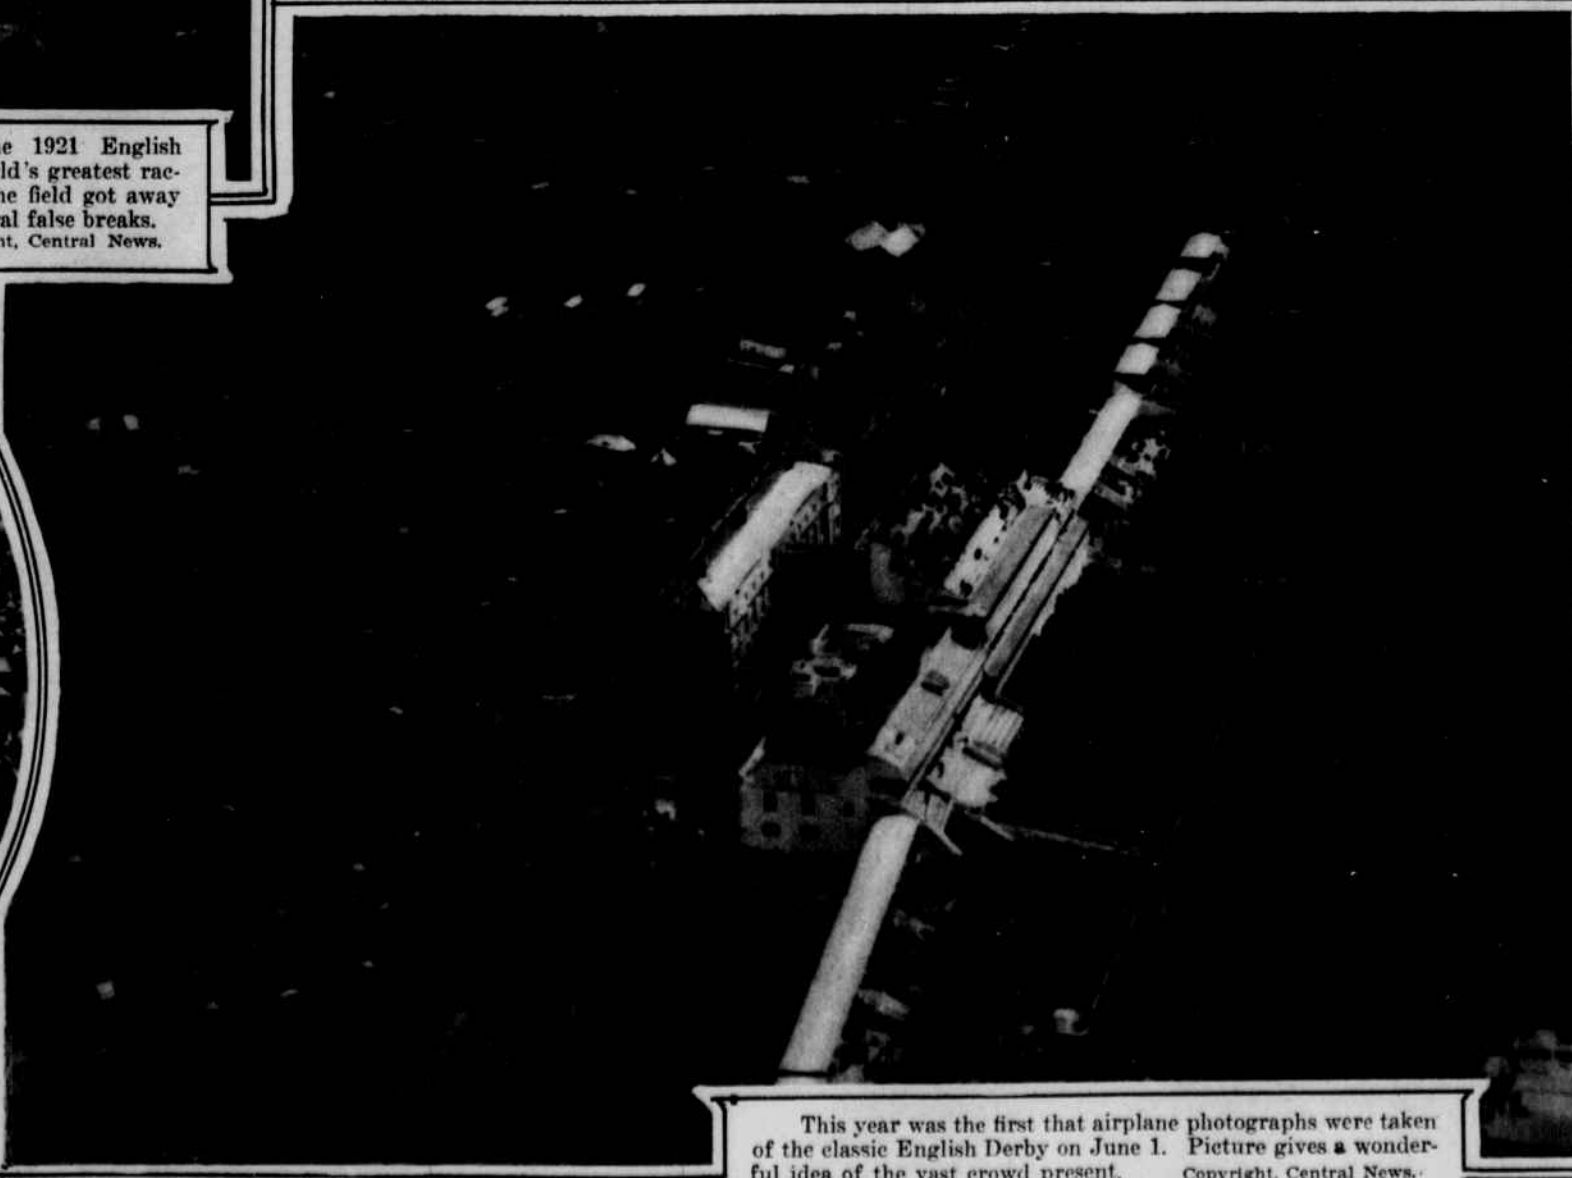

Start of the 1921 English Derby, the world's greatest racing classic. The field got away well after several false breaks. Copyright, Central News.

An enormous collection of vehicles of all sorts invaded Epsom on Derby Day. Picture shows a few of the thousands of private motor cars parked near the course, with a row of motor omnibuses in the background. The average parking charge was £5 per vehicle. Copyright, Central News.

Finish of the great English Derby, showing J. B. Joel's Humorist with E. Donaghue up (horse with blazed face) winning by a scant length from Viscount Astor's Craig An Eran. Copyright, Central News.

This year was the first that airplane photographs were taken of the classic English Derby on June 1. Picture gives a wonderful idea of the vast crowd present. Copyright, Central News.